DR. MOORE WOULD RESPECTFULLY INform the people of California that he has established an Institute for the

CURE OF DISEASES
WHETHER CHRONIC OR ACUTE
AT 641 COMMERCIAL STREET,
A few doors below Kearney, where he may be consulted at all hours.

DISEASES OF THE UTERINE OR OVARIAN FUNCTIONS,

Characterized by irregular, suppressed, or painful menstruation, pain in the sides and back, sensation of weight in the pelvis, weakness, nervous headache, leucorrhœa or whites, are treated on scientific principles, and a prompt and permanent cure effected.

NERVOUS AFFECTIONS,

Such as neuralgia, paralysis, giddiness, dimness of vision, etc., will receive special attention.

DISEASES OF THE SEXUAL ORGANS,

Male or female, are treated with all the skill and appliances which modern science has made available.—Nauseous drugs and nostrums, which are so often administered for weeks without benefit, are entirely discarded, and a few days only are required to accomplish a perfect cure.

Secondary and hereditary affections, scrofula in all its manifold forms, dyspepsia, emaciation and debility, treated with certain and unfailing remedies—speedily expelling all corrupt humors, and imparting a healthy tone to the system by purifying the blood, regulating the secretions, and reinvigorating the vital powers.

Twenty years practice in different parts of the world has given the Doctor advantages possessed by few, and his remarkable success warrants a promise of effectual cure.

Medicines, with full directions, will be sent to any part of the State on receipt of letter describing symptoms.

An infirmary is connected with the establishment, where patients who desire may receive board and constant attention during their sickness, thus avoiding the inconvenience of a hotel. Kind and attentive nurses will be employed, and no means will be left untried to give full satisfaction. Consultation free.

TO THE LADIES.—Females in trouble, or afflicted with disease, are respectfully invited to call on Dr. MOORE, and consult him about their troubles. His uniform success in his treatment of Female Suppression and kindred diseases is a sufficient guarantee of his scientific attainments. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but call at once, and save yourself from future suffering and misery. Consultations are confidential, and his offices are arranged for the strictest privacy. THE HUMAN HAIR

HAS LONG BEEN THE STUDY OF THE most scientific men of the age, from the fact that close study generally causes the hair to fall off prematurely; and, in consequence, they have given the subject a portion of their valuable time, trying to invent some method to regain their lost locks; but all their labor was in vain, until after many years of hard study devoted to this one subject, has produced an article that

WILL MAKE THE HAIR GROW,

and which, by its use as a Hair Dressing, will effectually and always prevent its loss—even to extreme old age. Happily, the while possessing these virtues, is most delightful and agreeable without regard to their virtue. The hair, when diseased, becomes dry, and commences to turn grey, which is caused by the non-secretion by the capillary glands of a peculiar oil. It has therefore been thought and believed that if the glands were stimulated into action, they would still give a sufficient supply of nourishment to the hair: but alas! they forget one very important law of nature, viz: that ALL STIMULANTS HAVE THEIR REACTION; and the more the glands were stimulated—the sooner the final loss of the much prized locks. The principle of the preparation invented by Professor Crockett is entirely the opposite—instead of stimulating the capillary glands, he feeds them with the substance they require, and, in turn, the hair is fed by them—on the same principle as giving water to a flower. All we will say to those who are timid about trying new preparations is, that we strictly guarantee the AMYGDALINE to be entirely free from all stimulants, and is as harmless as filtered water, and can be used on the smallest infant. As a

it is unequalled by any the world has yet produced. It keeps the head entirely free of dandruff, eruption, pimples—imparting to the hair a beautiful glossy softness not obtained by an known compound. It will also be found both pleasant and useful as a Cosmettiques, rpassing cold cream and face lotions in its effects; for chaps, sore breast and nipples we know of no remedy that is equal to it.

THE PERFUME

used is such that the AMYGDALINE will always retain, it will not become rancid by age; in fact, it is perfect in every particular. Professor Crockett's Amygdaline can be had of all druggists and dealers everywhere. Price 50 cents.

The California Fly-Killing Liquid.

FLY PAPER KILLS ITS THOUSANDS. THE Liquid Fly Killer its tens of thousands. This preparation for killing flies gives the greatest satisfaction of anything ever yet used. It is now improved to the highest killing point. It is of such a nature and so speedy of effects, that the flies will not spot the walls and windows, which makes the use of other preparations so objectionable.

ABOUT PRINTERS.

I wish I were a printer,
I really do, indeed;
It seems to me the printers
Get everything they need—
(Except money.)

They get the largest and the best
Of everything that grows,
And get free into circuses
And other kinds of shows—
(By giving an equivalent.)

The biggest bug will speak to them,
No matter how they dress;
A shabby coat is nothing
If they own a printing-press.
(Policy.)

At ladies' fairs they're almost hugged
By pretty girls, who know
That they will crack up everything
The ladies have to show.
(Bully.)

And thus they get a blow-out free
At every party feed,
And the reason is because they write
And other people read.
(That's what's the matter.)

THE NEW GOSPEL OF PEACE.

ACCORDING TO BENJAMIN.

CHAPTER VI.

1. Now Abraham was honest; but he was not wise in his generation.

2. Likewise also of the chief counsellors that he appointed, that one that was counsellor for the war wrought only mischief and confusion; even so that Abraham, who was long-suffering and slow to anger, would sometimes put down his foot in wrath.

3. Now Abraham's foot was heavy, but his head was light and his knees were feeble. So his foot came down in the wrong place, or at the wrong time, or else it continued not down until the end was accomplished.

4. Wherefore he prevailed not. And he was called Abraham the well-meaning. And men pitied him.

5. And Abraham and his counsellors should have ruled with a firm hand and a mighty arm and have bound the lands together with bands of steel, and have smitten down the strong, and set at naught the proud and been gracious unto the feeble. But they wavered, and shrank from the voice of threatening, both in their own land and in the land of Jonbool.

6. And this was well pleasing unto certain men of the Dimmichrats. For they said in their hearts, If this nation can be saved by the rule of the Dimmichrats of our faction, let it be saved; but if not, let it perish, and let us rule in our own provinces.

7. But they said not this openly; for they feared the people.

8. For in all this time the hearts of the men of the North failed not, neither did they alter in their wicked purpose to preserve their nation from destruction.

9. And of the Dimmichrats it was only they who were faithful to their masters the Tshivulree and the Phiretahs, and who were meek and lowly, and who sought to compromise unto them, and to crawl on their bellies before them, which was well fitting for them to do, and to say unto them, What would our masters have? and what would their servants do that they may be gracious unto their servants, and allow them a little share in the ruling of this land?—it was these only among the Dimmichrats who were well pleased because Abraham and his counsellors prevailed not.

10. And these men held not up the hands of Abraham their ruler, but sought occasion to prevent his purposes and to bring his councils to confusion, and his doings to naught.

11. And when Abraham's foot came down in the wroug place, or continued not down until the end was accomplished, and men's hearts were sick with disappointment, they sought to turn them in favor of Jeph the Repudiator and his counsellors.

12. And they said, Let us not have war with our masters, the Tshivulree and the Phiretahs; but let us compromise unto them, and crawl on our bellies before them, even as we did aforetime; for it is meet and right and a pleasant thing to be humble.

13. And they sent messengers unto the Tshivulree and the Phiretahs, saying these things, and their scribes wrote them in books by night and sent them out unto the people by day. But the Tshivulree and the Phiretahs spurned them; for now that they could no more use them, they looked at them with loathing.

14. Likewise also went some of them privily to the ambassador of the land of Jonbool, even that land which sought the destruction of the nation of Unculpsalm.

15. And they said unto him, Let us take counsel together that we may bring about this great end, the ceasing of this war without the putting down of the rebellion.

15. But he was crafty, and answered them nothing. And he wrote letters unto the rulers of his land, saying, I will watch faithfully, and I will turn aside neither to the right nor to the wrong, going which way be needful, if it leadeth to our profit. So shall I show myself worthy to be a ruler in the land of Jonbool.

17. Now when this letter was noised abroad in the land of Unculpsalm, the men of the North were incensed, and the fire of their anger was hot against the Dimmichrats that called themselves Peace men. For upon this matter the men of Belial, and the Dimmichrats which were not Peace men, and the Pahdees, were of one mind.

18. And they said, Who is it that hath dared thus to humble this nation? Let his come out before us. And no man answered.

19. For they which had done it saw that they could not stand before the people and live. Yet still they said in their hearts, If this nation can be saved by the Dimmichrats of our faction, let it be saved; but if not, let it perish, and let us rule in our own provinces. For now they had but one thought; not how the rebellious Tshivulree and Phiretahs might be subdued and compelled again to their obedience, but how they might again rule the land and divide the spoil, and have again their everlasting Niggah.

20. Wherefore they cried aloud for war, but labored in secret to bring the war to naught, and to turn the minds of the people to peace, that they might compromise unto the Phiretahs as they did aforetime. And they watched for their occasion.

21. Now the chiefs of this sect in Gotham were these:

22. Phernandiwud, who had been chief ruler of the city, and Benjumin his brother; James the scribe, which knew nothing, and Erastus his brother; Samuel, who was rich in butter; Hiram, the publican, who was also a sinner, and Elijah, who smelled the battle afar in the tents of Tamunee; Cyrus, (not he that was taught to ride, to shoot the bow, and to speak the truth, yet did this Cyrus shoot with a longer bow than the other); Primus the scribe, whose beard was like Aaron's, and who dwelt among the merchants; Ker Tiss, who wrote concerning the Great Covenant; and one who dwelt in the elbows of the Mincio, and destroyed the hearts of women; Isaiah, who was a captain of the Hammerites; Samuel, whose surname was Brinzmaid, and whose fathers ate hasty-pudding; and Augustus the money-changer, who aforetime was called Schomberg.

23. Now the others were Gentiles, but Augustus was of the circumcision.

24. And all these men served diligently their master, who was Jeph the Repudiator. And many of them were Scribes, but all of them were Pharisees; for they held to the letter of the law, but knew not its spirit. And they taught, like them of old, concerning the Sabbath, that the nation was made for the Great Covenant, and not the Great Covenant for the nation.

25. And the inn of Hiram, which before the war begun in the land of Uculpsalm had been filled with Tshivulree and Phiretahs, and with Phlunkees compromising themselves unto their masters the Phiretahs, and crawling upon their bellies before them, became now the chief place of resort for them that still served the Tshivulree and labored to prosper the rebellion. There they gathered themselves together and plotted in secret how they might ensnare the rulers of Unculpsalm, and rejoiced openly when the banner of the Phiretahs prevailed over the banner of Unculpsalm. So did the inn of Hiram become the synagogue of rebellion.

26. And there came a woman of the Phiretahs into Gotham. And she was married; yet was her husband not with her. And she was comely and fair to look upon.

27. And it was told unto the rulers of Unculpsalm, Behold, this woman of the Phiretahs cometh to spy out the nakedness of the land. Wherefore the rulers sent a messenger unto Ken Edee, chief of the watchmen of Gotham, that he should take her and put her in ward. And he did so.

28. Now, when Samuel, whose surname was Brinzmaid, heard that Ken Edee had taken a woman of the Phiretahs and put her in ward, he went to her; and when he saw that her husband was not with her, and that she was comely and fair to look upon, and that she had come to spy out the nakedness of the land, he succored her and ministered unto her. And he caused Ken Edee to take her out of ward; and when he had kept her in Gotham for awhile, that she might be comforted and see the nakedness of the land, he sent her back into the land of Tshivulree.

29. So all these men, and many others which followed them, did nothing else day and night but strive to get the land again into the hands of their faction that they might serve their master Jeph the Repudiator, and compromise unto him, and preserve their everlasting Niggah.

30. Now while they were waiting their occasion, Abraham himself ministered it unto them. For one of the captains in the army of Uncnlpsalm took Clement, a lawgiver, because he had said that Abraham was a usurper and a tyrant, in that he had resisted Jeph the Repudiator, and had sought diminish the armies of Unculpsalm, and cast him into prison; and to a scribe which did likewise, the captain sent armed men that stood over him with drawn swords, saying, Ye shall no longer thus stir up the people to sedition.

31. And immediately the chief men of the Dimmichrats throughout the land raised a great uproar, for they said, Now cometh our opportunity.

32. For there was a law in the land of Unculpsalm that every man might speak and write freely all the promptings of his heart, so that he slandered not his neighbor, and that no man should be cast into prison save by a judge, and when he had been condemned by twelve good men of his province. And the people of the land of Unculpsalm prized this law above all their other laws; and it was a part of the Great Covenant and of the Great Charter of the liberties of that people.

33. But it was written in the Great Covenant that in times of sedition, privy conspiracy and rebellion, this law should cease and be of no effect; for the safety of the nation.

34. Now the leaders of the Dimmichrats, who were wise in their generation, and who sought first to get power into their own hands, and afterwards the salvation of the nation, said among themselves, Lo, Abraham has given us a martyr; and it is better than if he had given the armies of Unculpsalm a victory. Now, therefore, let us bewail the woes of Clement and the violence to the Great Covenant and the ancient Charter; and we will declare that it is to preserve this nation from destruction, and we will regain the hearts of this people.

35. Ane they did so. And the people forgot the peril of the land, and how it was in more danger from traitors that were within than from foes that were without; and they forgot also the provision of the Great Covenant against such perils; and there was a great commotion.

36. And Abraham said, Let not Clement be kept in prison; but let him be sent among the Phiretahs; for they are his friends, and he is our enemy; and let the scribe continue his writing. And it was done. So Clement became a martyr; and the scribe hardened his heart and was tenfold more the servant of the Phiretahs than before. For he said, Abraham feareth the Dimmichrats, and even the men of Belial fear them also, and the spirit Bak Bohn is again cast out of them.

WANTED A FURLOUGH.—A Maine officer recently applied for a furleugh, stating that if it was not granted he would lose fifty thousand dollars. This attracted attention at headquarters and the officer was desired to forward a statement of how he would lose it. He did so to the effect that he had been in the army without receiving a furlough for two years; that he was engaged to a young lady worth fifty thousand dollars; that there was "another feller" after her, and that she had written to him that if he did not come home and marry her right away she would marry the other man. He got his furlough.

EXCEPT in cases of necessity, which are rare, leave your friend to learn unpleasant truths from his enemies; they are ready enough to tell them.

OUR children should learn that life is noble and valuable only when held cheap by the side of honor pnd of duty.

ARREST OF PIRATES.—For about two months and a half the Custom House and military authorities have been in possession of information relative to the movement of certain parties in this city, to the organizing and fitting out of a piratical expedition to prey upon the commerce of this coast, according to the original Chapman-Constitutional-Democratic programme. The fact that such an enterprise was on foot became known first to Collector James, by whom it was communicated to the authorities, and they awaited further developments patiently and watched them vigilantly. It was ascertained that the persons upon whom suspicion rested were negotiating for the means necessary to carry out their design successfully, and yesterday at about 12 o'clock, a detachment of the Provost Guard, under Lieutenant Walker, proceeded to the residence of the leader of the gang, Mike Hayes, at Hayes' Park, and arrested him. Several others were arrested at about the same time, but for prudential reasons their names are at present withheld from the public. They have letters of marque issued by the Confederate Government, and all the necessary documents for such a crowd; and the evidence against them is, it is said, otherwise overwhelming. When arrested, Hayes was placed in a carriage, conveyed to the beach, and thence in a boat across the bay to the "frowning bastile" of Alcatraz, where he is now safely caged. A friend informs us that the accused man looked guilty and self-condemned, turned deathly pale and quaked like a craven coward from head to foot. And be it remembered that this man Hayes is the famous Mike Hayes of the Gorilla Ruffian Rangers; the man who desired to whip so many Union men just before the election; the man upon wham the infamous traitor Democracy depended for aid and comfort; the pillar of strength around which the howling scoundrels yelped their indignation at the arrest of Weller for uttering treasonable language; the beetle-headed wretch who was Deputy Grand Marshal of the Broom Ranger procession on the 5th of November last, and in every way a good simon-pure Democrat of that "great majority." Let our people bear in miud that no cut-throat pirates, free-booters and murderers have attempted to band together and prey upon the lives, property and commerce of our citizens on this coast, but they have been Democrats. Doubtless old "knight" Beriah and the entire herd of traitors will set up a perfect howl of rage at this last "great outrage."—S. F. Flag, Dec. 25.

A BRILLIANT RELIQUARY.—There has been a very remarkable work of gold exhibited at the entrance of the choir of the Cathedral of Notre Dame, in Paris. It is a new reliquary, manufactured at the expense of the chapter, after a design prepared by M. Violet le Duc, and it is considered to be one of the most remarkable works of art produced during the present century. The immense number of diamonds and other precious stones, the result of pious offerings, are not out of proportion with the reliquary itself. St. Louis is represented sitting on an elevated throne, wearing a royal crown of rubies and emeralds, and holding the crown of thorns in his hand. St. Helena, with the holy Cross and Baudouin II., Emperor of Constantinople, are likewise seated on thrones. There is a platform over the heads of these personages, resting on the top of the throne, of which the disc is surrounded by a river of diamonds of the purest water. Turquoises are scattered over the surface, and in the centre is a pillar formed of enormous emeralds, which bears a crystal lantern, round which are the Twelve Apostles, placed at a certain distance from each other, so that the holy crown may be seen between them. The crown is placed horizontally in the lantern on which is fixed the royal crown of St. Louis, studded with rubies, emeralds and pearls. The reliquary, which is silver gilt, cost £2,200. The diamonds and precious stones are estimated at £8,000.

OFFICIAL MAJORITIES.—The Tribune, Nov. 26th, gives the following official majorities:

New York—Lincoln's majority 6,667; Fenton's majority over Seymour, 8,292.

Vermont—Lincoln's majority 20,097.

Connecticut—Lincoln's majority, 2,427.

New Jersey—McLellan's majority, 7,402.

Pennsylvania—(October)—Union majority including soldier's vote, 13,859.

Delaware—McLellan's majority 610. Nicholson (Cop. for Congress) over Smithers, 493.

Maryland—Lincoln's majority, 7,480.

Michigan—Lincoln's estimated majority 20,000.

Illinois—Lincoln's majority a little over 30,000, and 10 Union to 3 Copperhead Congressmen.

Missouri—Lincoln's majority as far as heard 11,257. Eight of the nine Congressmen for the Union.

NOTHING can be more touching than to behold a soft and tender woman, who had been all weakness and dependence, while treading the prosperous paths of life, suddenly rising in mental force to the comforter and supporter of her husband under misfortune. As the vine which has long twined its graceful foliage about the oak, and been lifted by it into sunshine, will, when the hardy oak is riven by the thunderbolt, cling around it with its caressing tendrils, and bind up its shattered boughs, so woman who is the dependent and ornament of man in his happier hours, should be his stay and solace when smitten with sudden and irretrievable calamity.

A SOUTHERN refugee says that the true secret of Jeff. Davis' complaint of the absence of rebel soldiers from duty is that two-thirds of the whole army are required to keep the Southern people quiet. Every city, town and village is a military post, and has its knot of officers, averaging from two to six in number, and its squad of men from twenty to a hundred. The ostensible purpose of thrse posts is that they are for the commissary and quarter-master's departments, to get supplies and material for the army; but they in reality enforce the merciless conscriptions of Jeff. Davis, scrutinize the errands of travelers, and keep the people "patriotic." And all this Jeff. knows, therefore his whining are utterly hypocritical.

BRAVO, BUB!—Tom is a bright little boy, and very much attached to his mother. The other day his father came home in a bad humor and was scolding and finding fault with things generally. Little Tom sat and listened until he thought it necessary to interfere in behalf of his mother, when, looking up at his father, he said in a very decided tone, "If you do not like her ways, what did you marry her for?"

CHURCH TRUSTEES.—The annual election of Trustees for the new Church will take place on Monday evening next. The citizens are requested to meet at the Union Church for the above purpose, at 7 o'clock, P. M.

E. B. BOUST Secretary.

MASONIC SUPPERS.—The members of the Order assembled en masse at Iowa Hill from the neighboring Lodges on the 27th of December last, on the invitation of Ionic Lodge, and after the installation of officers, the guests were invited to the basement story of the building, where a sumptuous supper was spread, to which about sixty ladies and gentlemen sat down. The occasion was enlivened by many rich and eloquent sentiments, and concluded to the satisfaction and enjoyment of those who were privileged to be present. After discussing the rich repast, the company adjourned to the dancing hall, where, with their fair partners, they "tripped the light fantastic" to the merry strains of delightful music until "the wee sma' hours," and adjourned highly pleased with "the feast of reason and the flow of soul" they had each participated in. Some of our citizens, we learn, became fascinated with Iowa Hill, and speak of removing to that place. Too much cannot be said in praise of the "fair" portion of that pleasant town, nor will the hospitable treatment of the sterner sex be soon forgotten. The inhabitants of Iowa Hill are noted for their kindness and liberality, and this is but another instance of the truth that they perfectly understand the duty of hosts whenver they take upon themselves that responsibility.

On the 31st ult., on the occasion of the installation of officers of Clay Lodge, in this place, brothers of the Order assembled from Iowa Hill, Illinoistown, Red Dog and Little York. After the ceremonies, about one hundred (members and invited guests) repaired to the supper room, where all the good things of the season were spread in bountiful profusion, and were seated. After supper the music struck up, when the cripple forgot his lameness, the aged their years and the sick their infirmities, and all were happy and convivial, thanks to the foresight and management of the committee. It is needless to say that everything passed off harmoniously and pleasantly, the only strife manifesting itself being that of the members in their endeavors to enhance the enjoyment of visiting friends.

THEY REMEMBERED THE PRINTERS.—We forgot to mention last week that Davy Meyers, of the Senate Saloon, sent us on Christmas day two bottles of excellent wine, for which we tender him the heartfelt thanks of the office. We advise all those who are "on the smile" to go and see Davy, for he keeps the best of everything, and is accommodating and obliging.

On New Year's day we received a note from Messrs. Levyn & Co., and on opening it found the following: "A happy New Year. Drink hearty." The note was accompanied by a bottle of sixteen-dollar brandy. We took their advice, and drank. They have more of the same sort left, together with a large and excellent stock of other liquors, wines cigars, tobacco, fancy goods, etc., and they are selling them cheap, too.

The same day we were the recipients from Mr. L. Arnstein of two bottles of excellent "Cicile-Larbre" Champagne, for which he will please accept our thanks. Everybody knows where Arnstein's brick store is, and that he has a big stock of goods, so we will say no more about it.

Gentlemen, one and all, may your next New Year's day pass as happily as by your generosity we passed the one of 1865.

MASONIC INSTALLATION.—At a regular communication of Libanus Chapter, No. 17, R. A. M., held at Iowa Hill, on the 27th ult., the following persons were installed as officers for the present year: J. H. Neff, H. P.; E. G. Spencer, K.; C. M. Kopp, S.; J. F. Vandivier, C. of H.; R. J. Tollman, P. S.; W. A. Mill, R. A. C.; A. Brown, M. of 3d V.; J. E. Bennadotte, M. of 2d V.; J. Jones, M. of 1st V.; H. C. Ladd, Treas.; W. D. Lawrence, Sec.; J. Y. Thomas, Guard.

RAILROADS.—The following decision was made in the Supreme Court a short time ago in regard to the injunction about which so much fuss was made and so much money of the county squandered last summer. We hope those who have interests in this matter are now satisfied. and will allow the Pacific Railroad to go on without further hindrance.

Griffith vs. Robinson et al—This appeal is from an order refusing to dissolve an injunction. Conceding that the facts stated in the complaint are sufficient to entitle the plaintiff to a preliminary injunction—but it is by no means clear that they are—we think the equities of the bill are sufficiently denied in the answer, and that the injunction should have been dissolved.

Order reversed and the Court below directed to dissolve the injunction. SAWYER, J.

We concur: SHAFTER, J.
RHODES, J.
CURREY, J.

THE Sacramento Union talks about a big hog killed in that place that weighed 372 pounds. That's nothing. Fred. Grobs killed two in this place on Christmas, one weighing 493, and the other 449 pounds, and he could have had larger ones had he wanted them.

OUR ROUTE.

The winter thus far has conclusively demonstrated the fact that this divide and the Donner Lake Pass is the best line for a wagon road and the only practicable route for a railroad over the mountains. Experienced and disinterested engineers who had examined this, in connection with the Placerville and other routes, were satisfied before; but the experience of this winter has removed the doubts and suspicions of everybody except a few satellites of the Alta, and the alarmed owners of wagon roads along the devious route from Placerville to Virginia City. To show the means to which the enemies of this line resort to break it down, it was published in the Alta that on a certain day a full load of passengers started from Virginia City to Sacramento by the Placerville route and none by the Dutch Flat route. Now it so happened that on that same day, when the Virginia City stage arrived in this town, an influential citizen of this place desired to get a passage to Sacramento, but was unable to do so, for the reason that the stage was crowded with through passengers!

This case is a fair sample of the arguments of the Atla, in editorials as muddy, and crooked intellectually, as the route it tries to sustain is materially. Passengers leaving Virginia for Sacramento, at the same time, by both routes, reach there twenty-four hours earlier by the Dutch Flat route than by the other, and have done so for weeks, notwithstanding this is a new route, opened late in the fall before the road became packed, and the company without experience in keeping open winter roads; while the Placerville route has been traveled for years, and to aid them in keeping it open the company have had the experience of several winters. The heaviest snows usually fall upon the Sierras before the first of January, and up to this time not enough has fallen to be a serious obstacle to the running of railroad trains, not so much, indeed, as often falls upon the line of some of the roads in the East—in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Canada—while the engineering difficulties to be overcome on this route are not near as great as on some of the eastern roads—the New York and Erie, for instance. There is probably not a great mountain range in the world which furnishes such a fine natural route for a railroad as is furnished by the Dutch Flat route over the Sierra Nevadas. There is not a ravine of any size to be crossed, not a bridge to be constructed the whole length of the long line from the American to the Truckee the other side of the summit. The road follows a natural ridge, comb or "divide," from the foothills to the summit, with the water on the left as you approach the summit, running into Bear river and the Yuba and on the right into the American and its tributaries.

The Supreme Court, a few days ago decided the Act of last winter, granting the Railroad Company State aid, constitutional, in consequence of which the company draw over $50,000 from the Treasury at once, and have been offered $1,000,000 for their bonds. We are told by an officer of the company that two thousand men will be put to work at once upon the road. Twelve miles of the road above Newcastle will be completed in three months, and then, as Henry S. Foote said about the rebel capital, "whar" will Latrobe and Goslingtown, alias Freeport, be? Latrobe will be as desolate as the old Mormon Temple at Nauvoo, and as great a monument of folly, while Goslingtown will be as lonesome as the pyramids of Egypt; and the poor Alta will have butted out its few remaining brains in a stupid attempt to defeat a great national enterprise, backed up by the State and National Governments, managed by its officers to the entire satisfaction of its stockholders, and with an ability, energy and zeal which has but few parallels in the history of railroad enterprise.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD DECISION.—A short time ago the Attorney General commenced an action to enjoin the State Treasurer from paying the interest on the Pacific Railroad bonds, issued under the laws of last Winter, $52,500 of which fell due on the 1st inst. The object was to test the constitutionality of the law, the enemies of the enterprise having industriously circulated reports that it was invalid. The District Court held it to be constitutional, refused to grant the injunction, and dismissed the complaint. An appeal was promptly taken, and yesterday the Supreme Court entered an order affirming the judgment of the District Court in those respects, but modified other portions which are unimportant. This decision settles the question of the validity of the law and the liability of the State to pay the interest for twenty years on $1,500,000 of these bonds, in gold coin. This large amount of bonds is now readily available to the company, as the decision will make them equal in value to State bonds, and they will probably sell for as high a price. The money is in the Treasury to pay the first semi-annual instalment of interest and will be paid to-day. We are informed that the company have given orders to increase the force of laborers to two thousand and to push the work as rapidly as possible. Long before these bonds can be exhausted the company will receive the $1,264,000 due them from the National Government, so that the work will undoubtedly progress without delay during the present year. —Sac. Union, 3d.

THE U. S. steamer Saginaw arrived at San Francisco on the 31st ult., bringing Hogg, Swain, Hiddle, Grady, Black, Lyon and Higgins, the pirates, who attempted to capture the Panama R. R. Co.'s steamer Salvador, and with which they were to start on a piratical cruise. They were taken to Fort Alcatraz.

UPHOLSTERY.—H. R. Hildreth is now prepared to execute all orders in the upholstery line that may be required of him, Paper-hanging done in good style, and spring beds, cushions, sofas, matresses, etc,, made and repaired at cheap rates.

SOLDIERS' BOUNTIES are now purchased by Heuston, Hastings & Co., the clothing men of San Francisco, who are now paying the highest market price for them in gold.

LETTER FROM SACRAMENTO.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5, 1865.

MR. EDITOR:—No doubt the readers of the ENQUIRER have by this time thoroughly digested the invaluable letter of your correspondent published several weeks ago, and therefore he considers it his duty to resume the quill, that they may be happy, and start this new year with a fresh and fashionable literary meal. Fashionable, did I say? Then the first item of this epistle must be SCANDAL.

Well, a certain District Judge, living not a thousand miles from San Francisco, has a young and beautiful daughter. The Judge is rich and fond of music, and he was anxious that his daughter should learn to play a few fashionable airs upon the harp. So his honor, the learned Judge, employed the renowned negro minstrel, Signor Abecco, to come to the house and give music lessons to the daughter aforesaid. It is said that the imaginative girl, when practising in the presence of her teacher, and when the shades of evening began to gather over the parlor of the Judge, could see little naked Cupids dancing along the "quivering strings." The result was, that, in course of time, the twain fell in love. An elopement was agreed upon, and the lovers got aboard a vessel and sailed for Australia. In the meantime the learned Judge, to wit, the father, discovered that an alibi was about to be demonstrated by his ungrateful daughter, and without waiting for a motion from some member of his bar, he demurred on behalf of his court, chartered a steamer, and put to sea to estop the proceedings of the happy pair. He overtook the vessel, but not, alas! until the vessel had passed through the Golden Gate. The father brought back the daughter in triumph to San Francisco, while the lonely minstrel, throwing his harp overboard, sped on his way, consoled only by the recollection of the brief enjoyments of the past, and cheered only by the music of the bounding sea. The loving father desired his daughter to learn to play upon the harp. She did; but it was upon "the harp of a thousand strings." Such is "human natur."

POLITICS.

Considerable talk is going on about who shall be the next United States Senator. Gov. Low, A. A. Sargent, Pixley, James McM. Shafter, Fred Billings and B. B. Redding are named as candidates. Intellectually, Shafter has more brains than all the balance combined. He is a fine classical scholar, possesses a vast fund of general information, stands at the head of the bar of the State, and for genius, eloquence and enlarged statesman-like views he has no equal in it. At present Gov. Low has the inside track. Should he be elected, and make as good a Senator as he has Governor, he will do no discredit to the State. By-the-way, I hear that the Stars and Stripes in your county is to announce Pixley as its candidate for the Senate. But the support of the Stars and Stripes will hardly be equivalent to an election. It is rumored that Stratton, formerly of your town, is to lose his position as State Librarian, when his term expires the 1st of March. It is unfortunate, for under his administration the Library has grown up and become an ornament to the State. Stratton is quite a "cuss," and if he loses his "place" probably will not starve.

ABOUT TOWN.

The condition of the streets here are literally horrible, covered crossings, and all with a fringe of dark mud. Young gents are put to the disagreeable duty of packing the young ladies across the streets. Husbands of long standing make their wives walk across, of course. The cellars are, most of them, under water, and tadpoles are being generated where sugar and pies and cakes are wont to lie. The water of the Sacramento and American rivers has been nearly as high as during the great flood of 1861–2. No impression has been made upon the levees, and capitalists, satisfied that the city is safe from floods for all time to come, will soon be investing in real estate here, as many have been waiting till the levees were tried for that purpose.

On Monday last, the darkeys of the city had a meeting to celebrate the Second Anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation. Rev. M. C. Briggs delivered an address, one of his happiest efforts, full of argument, wit and earnest eloquence. His comparison between Niggers and Paddies was as happy as it was just. It would suit Bill Harriman exactly.

A meeting of clergymen is being held here to devise ways to secure a better observance of the Sabbath. I am glad of it. The Sabbath ought to be observed. The Jews used to do it 3,000 years ago, and why should not we? But unfortunately the old Sabbath, proclaimed amid thunder and lightning and a great dust from Sinai, comes on Saturday, the best day for "cleaning up." After all, the best way for the ministers to induce sensible people to keep the Sabbath is to preach sensible sermons on sensible subjects—appealing to the reason and intellect of the people instead of their stupidity and credulity. But I am drawing out this epistle to an unnecessary length; besides, I have long thought that when a person gets to thinking or writing upon theological subjects, the sooner he "dries up" the better; therefore the subscriber bids you an affectionate adieu.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

IS HE QUALIFIED?

M. Renan, in his Life of Jesus, p. 50, lays claim to being specially qualified for writing what he calls "A history of the Origin of Christianity," (of which history his "Life of Jesus" is the first volume,) because he no longer believes implicitly in the religion the history of which he has undertaken to write. This he says at the close of the introduction. But, in order to deal with the utmost fairness, I will quote his exact words, and not part, but all he says, vital to this point. He sets forth his claim in this language: "To write the history of a religion, it is necessary, first to have believed it (without that we could not understand by what it had charmed and satisfied the human conscience); in the second place, to believe it no longer implicitly; for implicit faith is incompatible with sincere history."

Is he right? Is he qualified? Is he governed by a correct principle? Can he be trusted? First believe, then doubt, and write as a doubter. Is not this a new way? Benedict Arnold once believed in his country's cause, then doubted. Washington continued to believe. Arnold was, therefore, the true patriot and statesman, and he only could write "a sincere history" of the cause in which they fought, for he first believed and then "believed no longer implicitly." Again, Jefferson Davis once believed in the United States Government, and then lost his faith; and hence, he would be a trustworthy historian of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, and not Abbott, or Greeley, or Headley, who never lost faith in the good old way of the Union! Again: The thief was once an honest man, but he at last no longer "implicitly believed" in honesty, and began to steal; hence he and not the man who never stole, would give you a true estimate of honesty!

Is not M. Renan wrong? Does he not claim too much? Are doubters the only sure guides? Is faith a bar to candor? Does belief preclude honesty? Is "implicit faith incompatible with sincere history?" Is it impossible for a judge to weigh the evidence of a man's guilt until he is inclined to believe him guilty? Is the law wrong which holds faith in a man's innocence until he is proved guilty?

It seems to me that M. Renan is wrong, that he is governed by a false principle, and hence is not qualified for writing the "Life of Jesus," or of any one or anything in which he "no longer has implicit" unquestioning, undoubting "faith." Of course I do not hold that "implicit faith" will make any writer of any history infallible; but I do claim that "implicit faith" in a subject is not a disqualification for writing a history of it. For what is faith? It is the trust, repose, rest of the mind in the truth of a thing. On what does faith rest? On evidence, on facts, on demonstrations, on known laws of spirit or matter. Now, is the mind incapable of weighing evidence, judging facts, testing demonstrations, until it loses faith in them? For example: Washington Irving had implicit faith in the character of "the Father of his Country," and increasing years and knowledge only led him the more to admire and believe in the patriotism and worth of George Washington. He undertook to write a Life of Washington, "believing implicitly" that he was all that the nation esteemed him to be. Was he therefore incapable of writing a "sincere history" of him and of weighing the charges of Washington's enemies, as well as the praise of friends? In other words, is doubt a better guide, while seeking truth, than faith? Is Julian, the apostate, a better judge of Christianity than Augustine, the Saint? Is Renan, the doubter, a better judge of Jesus than Bushnell the believer? Shall we elect Jefferson Davis historian of the United States? As well elect Ernest Renan to write the Life of Jesus. Is not the Life of Jesus, which he has written, the legitimate fruit of the false principle on which he wrote it? Can we wonder that he robs Jesus of his divinity, charges him with faults, accuses him of deluding the people by pretending to work miracles, and at last of becoming infatuated himself with the idea that he was the expected Messiah and Son of God? In fact, could we expect M. Renan to write any other kind of book than he has written?

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

The only Remedy for Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsical Swellings, Genital Debility, Etc.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS attended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivaled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned, and also

DIABETES,
IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION, INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET,
FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorders or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revived and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MRDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom of almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor. The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

Irritation of the neck of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, and Catarrh of the Bladder, Strangury or Burning, or Painful Urinating, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-dust Deposit, and Mucous or Milky Discharges after Urinating.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and to much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give your praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

MALES AND FEMALES,

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.

CURATIVE EFFECTS OF GRAPES.—Dr. Herpen, of Metz, has published a very interesting account of the curative effects of grapes, in various disorders of the body: They act, firstly, by introducting large quantities of fluids into the system, which, passing through the blood, carry off, by perspiration and other excretions, the effete and injurious materials of the body; secondly, as a vegetably nutritive agent. Employed rationally and methodically, added by by suitable diet and regimen, the grape produces more important changes in the system, in favoring organic transmutations, in contributing healthful materials to the repair and reconstruction of the various tissues, and determining the removal of vitiated matter, which have become useless and injurious to the system. Directed by the skillful physician, the valuable curative agent can be made to produce the most varied effect on the constitution. It also possesses the advantage of being acceptable to the invalids. The treatment last from three to six weeks. The quantity of grapes that may be consumed varies from one to four pounds. The skins and seed must not be swallowed. In the absence of grapes, the most beneficent effect may be obtained from dried raisons, provided, a quantity of water, sufficient to satisfy the thirst they create, be taken at the same time or they may be stewed in the same manner as prunes.

TRANSPLANTING FRUIT.—Dry ground should be selected for an orchard. The ground should be plowed at least one foot deep; The holes should be dug considerably larger than the extent of the roots of the trees to be planted, and not less than eighteen inches deep; cut off all broken roots, and smooth with a sharp knife the ends of those that are not mutilated by the spade in digging. If the tree is of any size, be sure and cut off at least three-fourths of the top, (better have a tree grow thrifty than live the first season, or as we term it, head-back) then place the same side to the sun as when in nursery. It is readily distinguished; the south side is of a reddish brown color, and the north of dark green. When transplanting the tree extend the roots out to their natural position, and never set a tree deeper in the earth than it was before transplanting; then fill up the hole with earth taken from the surface, well pulverized, and be sure that you leave no vacancies about the roots. If the ground be dry, when you get the roots covered, pour in half a bucket of water, and when it settles away, fill up the hole. Be careful not to tread the earth down too firm. Then mulch—that is place coarse manure or straw one or two inches deep on the ground about the trees. Mulching is indispensable in this conntry, either in setting trees or plants; and even hedging does better to be thoroughly mulched when set.

A young orchard should by all means be cultivated with a hoed crop, and never allow small grain or grass to be sown among them. If you wish your trees to fruit young, train the tops to branch within two or three feet of the ground, and keep your pruning knife in your pocket and stock out of the orchard. It will soon pay you for your trouble.

TOMATO MEAT PIE.—A very delicious dish is the following, which I learned from one of the best housekeepers in the State:

Cover the bottom of a pudding dish with bread crumbs, then make a layer of cold roasted mutton, cut in small pieces, then a layer of tomatoes sliced, then another layer of bread crumbs, another of meat, another of tomatoes, and then cover with bread crumbs and bake until the crust is brown. Season with salt and pepper to your taste. It will bear high seasoning. Serve hot, and a better relishing dish is not often met with.

TABLE CORN.—In preparing sweet corn for table use, remove the husk and silk, put the corn into a pot of boiling water with about a table-spoonful of salt to a gallon of water; let the corn boil fifteen to twenty minutes; then, with a sharp knife slit the rows of grains, and with the back of the knife press out the pulp, leaving the hull of the grain attached ts the cob. Seasoned with salt, pepper and butter, it makes a superb dish that the most delicate may partake of. Some people suffer inconvenience from eating sweet corn, but this may be attributed to eating the hull of the grain, which is as indigestible as the cob.

CHEAP APPLE PUDDING.—Peel the apples, cut in small pieces, and put them in a dish with water enough to keep them from burning. Place over them a cover, half an inch thick of pastry, made the some as for cream of tartar biscuit; place on a moderate fire, and cover with a deep dish to allow the crust to rise. Cook twenty minutes. Serve with braided butter and sugar.

TO DRESS RICE.—A lady recommends the following: Soak the rice in cold water for seven hours; have ready a stew-pan with boiling water, throw in the rice and let it boil briskly for ten minutes, drain it in a cullender, cover it up hot by the fire for few minutes, and then serve. The grains will be found double the usual size, and quite distinct from each other.

JOHNNY CAKE.—Take one quart of buttermilk, one teacup of flour, two-thirds of a teacup of moasses, a little salt, one teaspoonful of saleratus, one egg, well beaten. Stir in the Indian meal but be sure and not get too much. Leave it thin, so thin that it will almost run. Bake in tin in any oven, and tolerably quick. Some prefer it without molasses.

VINEGAR RECIPE.—A correspondent of the Scientic American says: To one gallon of soft water add a pint of sugar, or sorghum molasses, stir all well, and then add nearly a gallon of tomatoes, fresh and ripe. Then set the vessel aside, and in a few days you will the sourest pickles I ever tasted, and nearly the best vinegar.

GALLING.—A correspondent, writing from Butler's headquarters, refers to the General's recent retaliatory measure of putting as many Chivalry at hard work, as the Chivalry had put prisoners to work, and relates the following incident: "It was amusing to see our negro guards endeavoring to hurry on the work by calling out to those unfortunate Chivs., whenever the work lagged: 'Hurry up, dar —hurry up' Lieutenant., 'Go on dar—go on wid dat ar shobble, Major.' 'Take up dat ar pick Captain, and git to work libely, or I'll blow you out ob de ranks.'"

HOW HELL MIGHT HAPPEN!—If the earth should stop on its orbit, it would begin to fall straight toward the sun. As it approached more nearly to that great source of heat, it would soon reach a point where the temperature is as high as two hundred and twelve degrees, and then all the waters of the ocean would be evaporated. Before it reached the sun, this solid earth would be converted into a vast volume of red-hot gas, which, when it fell into the fiery atmosphere of the sun, would merely produce a blast of wind from the point where it struck outward in all directions.

WOMEN regard relationship more than we do. Their ancestral pride is always several ancestors older than ours.

has enjoyed on this coast an uninterupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned es tablisment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALES and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health. They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength and vigor from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold ever over the one afflicted, the sword of destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venerial, doubles in dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured: the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be satisfied with partial cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine. WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whom long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all diseasses entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT, SPEEDY and PERMANENT

Cures are Always Guaranteed,

In syphilis and its adjuncts; Gonnorhœa and its accompanying diseases; and all disorders of the Bladder, Kidneys and prostrate; Seminal Weakness; Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Impoteney; Incipient Consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs, in either sex, cure always warranted, OR NO PAY REQUIRED at the PRIVATE

SEMINAL WEAKNESS OR SPERMATORROEA.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization should stop to consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion, unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lacivious dreams accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptoms of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases, Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence toward a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life dribbling out in the discharge of the vital principal of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim of his evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment. He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no resene except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult, then, at once, a physician whom long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance from business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor, understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy and the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation, by letter or otherwise, Free. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies or the complaints for which they are applied. The constantly accruing testimonials of their efficacy declare them to be pre-eminently superior in their action. No lady should be without these Renovating Agents. None genuine unless procured at this office.

PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO.,
No. 13 Platt str., New York, Cleveland, Ohio, and Birmingham, Vt.
S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust; that a simple machine is better than a complicated one; that a wringer should be self-adjusting and efficient; that thumb-screws and fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order; that wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split; that wood bearings for a shaft to run in will wear out; that the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes; that cog-wheel regulators are not essential, that the Putnam Wringer has ALL the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named; that all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made; that it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt without alteration.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but only insert a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, TEST Putnam's Wringer. Test it thoroughly with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co.—Gentlemen:—I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use.

Respectfully yours, JNO. W. WHEELER,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars. JNO. C. LEFFERTS,
New York, Jan. 1864. No. 100 Beekman str.

We have tested Putnam's Wringer by practical working and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and its saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most.
